

Household Appliance Bearings

F&D bearings for home appliances can meet the low-noise requirement and has characteristics of maintaining long-term silence and environmentally friendly. It is very suitable for household appliances such as cooker hoods, ceiling fans, washing machines and refrigerators. At present, F&D bearings have been successfully used in products from Gree, Samsung, and Fotile.

