

Motorcycle Bearings

F&D bearings for industrial electric motors have characteristics such as smooth operations, low-noise, low starting torque, and long product lifespan, thus extending the maintenance period, reducing rotational losses and environmentally friendly.

