

Textile Machinery Bearings

F&D bearings for textile machinery can be used in environments with high speed, heavy load, requiring strong reliability and long lifespan, despite the impact from fiber and corrosive substances. Furthermore, our products have characteristics such as low vibration, high-temperature tolerance, ease of installation, maintenance free, high tension.

